It is estimated that the census of 1900 will cost something over $15,000,000. As a permanent institution, as some want to have it, there would be some nice pickin's in it for the faithful.

When Minister Wu saw his first game of football and saw the knock outs he propounded the inquiry "Why don't they use rifles." He evidently thought that would be an easier way to settle it.

There is talk of an independent glass combine to fight the trust. We are not a combinist, but in this case we hope the new combine will, in the language of Kaiser Wilhelm, "smash" the other combine "all to pieces."

Li Hung Chang is said to have made most of his millions by running money-lending or pawn shops throughout China, where he had scores of them, and stuck it to the fellows who had occasion to call on their "uncle."

Mr. Rockefeller recently delivered an address before a Sunday School on the "vanity and emptiness of great riches." But he isn't projecting to distribute and get rid of his as Mr. Carnegie is, who isn't making any Sunday School remarks on the subject.

A London physician expresses the opinion that if the British soldiers boiled the water they drink they would suffer very little from typhoid and enteric fevers. Our soldiers in camp before they sailed for Cuba had their drinking water boiled.

A lot of mill girls in Hazelton, Pa., have resolved to dispense with chewing gum, candy, etc., and devote the money spent for these to keeping up a night school. When it comes to dispensing with chewing gum or an education sensible girls will always give their jaws a rest.

The mayor of New York has the appointment of a dozen or so municipal officers, whose salaries range from $5,000 to $15,000, the total amounting to about $200,000, and these have the dispensing of patronage amounting to from $15,000,000 to $20,000,000. Some pretty fat "pickin's" in that.

A WORD AS TO DIPHTHERIA.

Suggestions by Dr. Charles Duffy, of Newbern, as to Preventatives.

Dr. Charles Duffy, one of the prominent physicians of the State, publishes the following in regard to diphtheria in the Newbern Journal:

Many inquiries as to some simple means looking to the preventative of the spread of diphtheria, prompt me to suggest the following:

Let every householder place near each door leading into or out of the house a salt cellar or other receptacle filled with common table salt, and instruct and constantly remind the children to put a pinch of the salt in the mouth every time they go in or out of the house. A weak salt solution snuffed into the nostrils several times a day is also advisable. See that your premises are kept clean and well drained and use whitewash freely about yard fences, cellars, underpinning, etc.

Committed to Jail.

Henry Myers, the negro who shot and dangerously wounded a woman thought then to have been his wife, was arraigned in the police court yesterday and held for the higher court under a bond of $150 which he failed to give and was committed to jail. Myers shot the woman in the head on Red Cross street near Niestlie's drug store, and then fled to a swamp near the County Home where he was surrounded and captured by a squad of policemen which gave pursuit. The woman was taken to the hospital and almost miraculously recovered. The bullet is still in her head and yesterday she appeared in police court and although not his wife, but a woman with whom he lived for some time, she would not prosecute but gave unwillingly testimony against him. The evidence, however, was fully sufficient to admit of probable cause and he was bound over. The woman said the shooting was accidental.

Some Good Fishing.

Mr. L. J. Merrimon, of Ivanhoe, N. C., says that last Tuesday at a seine hauling at the place of Mr. W. M. Corbett, Jr., at Bastile's Bridge, on Black river, at one cast there were caught [731 fish—blue brem, perch and blackfish, weighing as follows: Blackfish 700 pounds; brem and perch 304 pounds, making a total of 1,004 pounds of fresh water fish. The catch beats all records in this section; at least for fresh water fishing. The seine was 90 yards long.

AN ANNUAL MEETING.

The Merchants' Association Chose Directors and Transacted Routine Business.

REPORT OF THE SECRETARY.

Much Good Accomplished in Way of Collections and Credit System Somewhat Reformed — Suggestion Which Was Favorably Received.

Directors were elected and a number of routine matters were attended to at the fourth annual meeting of the Wilmington Merchants' Association, held yesterday afternoon at 3 o'clock in its rooms in the Seaboard Air Line building.

Mr. M. W. Jacobi was called to the chair as presiding officer in the absence of Col. W. A. Johnson, the president, and Mr. Heinsberger, as secretary, was at his post. It was found that 78 members out of a total number of 100 were represented, either in person or by proxy.

The reports of the secretary and treasurer, the latter duly approved by Messrs. J. H. Thomas and Wm. Niestlie, the auditing committee, were read, adopted and ordered on file.

On motion of Mr. George R. French it was decided to increase the number of directors from 11 to 15 and Article 3, Section 1, of the by-laws and constitution was amended to that effect.

A nominating committee, appointed by the chairman and consisting of Messrs. Hugh MacRae, W. E Worth and J. H. Thomas, submitted the following names of members to compose the Board of Directors for the ensuing year and they were unanimously elected, the secretary, by instruction, casting the vote of all those present:

Sol Bear, Chas. M. Whitlock, A. B. Skelding, William Niestlie, J. M. Solky, Marcus W. Jacobi, George O. Gaylord, J. W. Murchison, J. H. Rehder, W. E. Worth, DeWitt C. Love, J. H. Thomas, B. Solomon, W. E. Springer, M. W. Divine.

Messrs. Jacobi, Worth, Niestlie and Love were members of the old board; the others are newly elected.

The Board was instructed to meet on Thursday, 21st inst, at 3:30 o'clock for the purpose of electing officers.

At the meeting the following letter was read:

WILMINGTON, Oct. 1st, 1901.

Mr. P. Heinsberger, Secretary.

DEAR SIR:—I make the following suggestion: At your next annual meeting the Association publish a pamphlet, giving a complete list of all the accounts it has dealt with since the organizations, together with any other matter that might pertain to them. Opposite each name a memorandum should show what methods were used to collect the account and whether successful or not. Very truly, JAMES H. CHADBOURN, JR.

The suggestion in the letter was favorably received and upon motion of Mr. W. E. Worth and second by Mr. S. H. Fishblate, the secretary was instructed to have the pamphlet published as described by Mr. Chadbourn.

The only annual report of general interest was that of the secretary, which contains much interesting data to members and is as follows:

To the Wilmington Merchants' Association:

DEAR SIR—I have the honor to submit herewith my fourth annual report for the year 1900-1901:

The Merchants' Association was organized in September, 1897, and began its fourth year with 110 active and three honorary members. The receipts from membership and dues during 1900-1901, amounted to $742 47. The expenditures amounted to $671 59, leaving a balance in the Atlantic National Bank of $70.88.

Twelve business houses have joined your Association, eleven retired from business and ten resigned. Sixty-three firms have reported regularly delinquent debtors. The monthly reports showed an amount of $16,434.07. The amounts collected through this office by the use of your official letter blanks were $1,661.20. The benefits derived to our merchants through the Association have been great. Many migratory persons who had made it a business of having goods charged and never paying for them have been weeded out. Many who have been slow in paying their monthly bills are now good cash buyers. A merchant not long ago remarked that he was satisfied that the Merchants' Association brought about this great change.

My thanks are extended to the Board of Directors who greatly assisted me in performing my duties during the year just closed. Respectfully,

P. HEINSBERGER, Sec'y.

CARD FROM MAYOR WADDELL

Unusual Demand Upon Benevolence of the People of Wilmington Is Indicated.

TO THE EDITOR—I feel it to be a duty to supplement the card of Rev. Dr. Blackwell, president of the Associated Charities, published in this morning's papers, for the reason that, for the first time so early in the season applications are now daily made at the Mayor's office, by both white and colored people, for wood or for hauling it when given by the Associated Charities. The indications certainly point to unusual demands upon the benevolence of our citizens during the Winter, and I am sure they will be liberally complied with as they have always been.

A. M. WADDELL, Mayor.

Capt. Humphreys Transferred.

Capt. Chas. Humphreys, assistant engineer in the U. S. Engineer's Department in this city, has been ordered to Wheeling, W. Va., to take charge of some improvements in the Ohio river, and he left Monday night for that city, much to the regret of his many friends in Wilmington, where he has resided the past sixteen years. His family will not join him at present, but may leave for their new home later.

DAUGHTERS OF CONFEDERACY

Interesting and Well Attended Meeting of Cape Fear Chapter Yesterday Afternoon—Thanks for Kindness.

There was an unusually large attendance at the meeting of the Cape Fear Chapter of the U. D. C. yesterday afternoon at the W. L. I. armory. After routine business, the late convention was very pleasantly discussed and the Chapter was gratified to hear, through various members, that the delegates from the different States had expressed themselves as quite pleased with their entertainment while in the city—indeed, the convention compared very favorably with any held in other cities heretofore.

A charming letter was read from Mrs. W. H. Oliver, of Newbern, presenting the Chapter with a handsomely framed picture of "Our Lost Cause." In the centre of it is a design for a monument to be erected to the memory of President Davis. Around the border are pictures of President Davis, Vice President Stephens, the members of the cabinet, among them the likeness of the late Hon. George Davis, of Wilmington, and Generals Lee and Stonewall Jackson. The Chapter appreciates the gift and it will be placed in the museum.

The Museum Committee reported that many of the delegates visited the museum. It compared very forcibly with many in larger cities, and while smaller than some, in variety and interest of relics it was very fine indeed.

The secretary was instructed to thank through the columns of the city papers, all who so kindly assisted them in the entertainment of the convention. Their thanks are particularly due to those who, by their musical talent, rendered the opening exercises so enjoyable; to the ministers of the different denominations, the Veterans, the Wilmington Light Infantry, the Carolina Yacht Club, the Y. M. C. A., the Masons, the Elks, to those ladies and gentlemen and Associations who, by contributions of money, assisted the Chapter in their work; to all who sent flowers, loaned pictures, rugs, tables, etc., without which the convention could not have been the success it was. Thanks, many thanks, to all are returned.

PRESBYTERIAN HIGH SCHOOLS

Called Meeting of Wilmington Presbytery Yesterday to Adopt Constitution for Their Government.

At a called meeting of Wilmington Presbytery in the First Church, this city, yesterday morning, the committee appointed at the last session to draft a constitution and by-laws for the new Presbyterian high schools to be established at Clarkton and Faison, made its report, which was adopted as the rules governing the boards of trustees of the two institutions and they were instructed to proceed with the work accordingly.

Rev. D. P. McGeachy, of Burgaw, acted as moderator and Rev. A. McFayden, of Clarkton, as clerk. Those present were Rev. J. M. Wells, Rev. P. C. Morton, Ruling Elders Samuel Northrop and Oscar Pearsall, of Wilmington; Rev. R. M. Williams, of Wallace, and Dr. Jno. M. Faison, of Faison.

The committee which framed the constitution is composed of Dr. Faison and Rev. Mr. Williams, assisted by Dr. Wells, and the boards of trustees were requested to meet and organize at the earliest convenience of the members, who were named at the meeting of Presbytery in October at Clarkton.

Several thousand dollars are already in hand for the buildings and more is expected soon. Both schools will start under exceedingly favorable auspices and will prepare for college or business.

MADE FALSE FIRE ALARM.

Negro Turned One In and Another Had Too Much to Say.

Whether their intentions were good or bad, Scip Ashe and Wm. Miller, both colored, will have to answer in the police court to day at noon for turning in a false alarm and for disorderly conduct, respectively.

Because smoke issued from the windows of a shop in "Racket store alley" where a blacksmith was shrinking a tire to a cart wheel yesterday afternoon, Ashe turned in an alarm from box 43, corner Front and Orange streets, and the department came rushing upon the scene. Chief Schnibben arrested Ashe for the miscreancy, and Miller insisted on having too much to say about the arrest, whereupon Alderman Harriss, chairman of the fire committee, took him in tow for the station house. Both will have to answer for their conduct to-day.

Relics From Fort Fisher.

Mrs. Thos. Cobb, of Opelika, Ala., and Mrs. Rufus Barringer, of Charlotte, N. C., who remained in the city after the U. D. C. convention, were guests of Mrs. P. C. Morton on a visit to Southport Monday. Mrs. Cobb and Mrs. Barringer received from Capt. J. W. Harper, of the steamer Wilmington, two interesting souvenirs of their trip—one a sword from the battle at Fort Fisher, and the other a bayonet taken from the same field. Both are very highly valued by the ladies to whom they were presented.

AFFAIRS OF THE CITY.

Regular Semi-Monthly Meeting of Board of Audit and Finance Held Last Night.

THE MONTHLY TAX RECEIPTS.

Bond of Wm. MacLean & Co., Water Works Contractors, Approved—No Firearms Yet for Policemen. Bills for Current Expenses.

The greater portion of last night's regular monthly meeting of the Board of Audit and Finance of the city was taken up in approving the usual number of bills for current expenses.

Present at the meeting were Mr. H. C. McQueen, the chairman, and Messrs. C. W. Yates, S P. McNair, Jesse Wilder and J. A. Orrell.

The bond of Messrs Wm. McLean & Co., the contractors for extending the water works system into the Fifth ward, in the sum of $1,000, was approved with The City Trust, Safe Deposit and Security Company, of Philadelphia, as surety. Much of the material for extension of the water mains is already on the grounds and the contractors hope to begin work very soon. It was expected that the work would have begun before this time, but a necessary delay came and the work will now be rushed.

Although a communication was laid before the Board relative to the equipment of the police force with fire-arms, no action was taken upon it, but the matter will likely receive consideration at a subsequent meeting. The Board of Aldermen has already made an appropriation covering the cost of the equipment.

Among the interesting features of the proceedings was the reading of the regular monthly report of the City Clerk and Treasurer, showing receipts and disbursements of the public fund for the month of October. Ordinarily the reports are not of general interest, but at this season taxes are coming in and the progress of collections is always watched as an indication of what amount of the total levied will be available. The receipts and disbursements for the month were as follows:

RECEIPTS.

Balance from September	$36,793 04
Merchant's license	2,358 14
Liquor license	1,414 00
Markets	132 16
Mayor's court	231 60
Pound fees	15 50
Weighing beef cattle	52 75
Miscellaneous	20 25
Rent and personal tax	21,015 21
Tax prior to 1901	275 34
Dog badges	1 00
Dray badges	4 60
Scavenger system	33 23
Costs on back taxes	33 37
Total	$52,369 19

The total amount collected during the month was $35,576.15 to which was added the balance from September, making a grand total of $52,369.19. Of this amount $34,983.59 was disbursed, which disbursements included the payment of two notes of $5,000 each for money borrowed to tide the city over the Summer months when tax gathering was dull. The balance to November account is $17,385.50.

"The Wrong Mr. Wright."

Mr. George L. Kennedy, press agent for "The Wrong Mr. Wright" Company, which will be seen at the Opera House Saturday matinee and night, arrived in the city yesterday. The attraction is a bright, breezy farce, constructed for and especially adapted to laughing purposes by that prince of authors, George H. Broadhurst. The principal role is taken by Mr. John Allison, who is pleasantly remembered in Wilmington in "What Happened to Jones" two season ago. Mr. Allison is supported by Miss Maud Allison, who is remembered in the "Jones" cast in the clever interpretation of the Swedish girl. A number of good specialties are introduced and the show is said to be well worth the price.

The Y. M. C. A. Week of Prayer.

Rev. James A. Dorritee, who has been detained in Charlotte on account of the sickness and death of a friend, has wired that he will be here to-night to conduct the men's meeting at the Y. M. C. A. A special musical programme will be rendered. Much interest is manifested and an unusually large crowd is expected to attend the service. The meeting last night at the Y. M. C. A. was conducted by Dr. George C. Worth and the Rev. Mr. Leavitt.

Exhibitions in Telepathy.

Perhaps no feature of the entertainments now being given at the Opera House by "Sevengala," the hypnotist, are so wonderful as the exhibitions in telepathy, which are produced as a second part to the regular performance in hypnotism. Nothing like it has ever been seen here before and this feature alone, if no other, should commend the attraction to the public. The company last night was greeted with a fairly good house considering the very inclement weather.

State Bankers' Association.

The local bankers have been joined by the Wilmington Chamber of Commerce in inviting the State Bankers' Association to hold its annual meeting here next Summer. The Association is one of the most important commercial bodies in the State and Wilmington would feel proud to entertain its members. The choice of a place of meeting is usually left with the Executive Committee.

Merrimon, Asheville, as counsel to appear with Attorney General Gilmer to protect the State's interests in the preliminary hearing of the suit of South Dakota vs. North Carolina, just admitted in the United States Supreme Court. The suit is for the value of $10,000 bonds of the Western North Carolina Railroad Company, issued by the State, together with interest since 1869.

Three little children of M. C. Blalock, colored, were burned to death near here this afternoon. The parents were at work in a field, when the house caught fire and was burned down.

The features of these reports were that the line earned during the year $300,000 more gross and $38,000 less net. The company ordered 10,000 tons of rails during the year, and 5,700 tons for forty-five miles of the Petersburg road.

All the officers were re-elected as well as all the members of the Board of Directors.

Was It Snow or Sleet?

A slight fall of sleet or hominy snow occurred yesterday afternoon about 4 o'clock. It melted very soon, however, upon reaching the ground and was hardly distinguishable from rain. Snow was reported during the day at Florence and Camden, S. C., and at points in Western North Carolina.

WILMINGTON, N. C.

WEDNESDAY MORNING, NOV. 20.

INDUSTRIAL TRAINING.

Yesterday we referred to one of the adresses made at the meeting of the Southern Cotton Spinners' Association at Atlanta. There was one feature of that address delivered by the President of the Association, Dr. John H. McAden, of Charlotte, which is deserving of commendation and will meet with commendation even from those who differ from the Dr. on the questions of subsidies to ships, protection, &c. that was when here commended bathhouses, better schooling &c. for the operatives of the mills. We quote what he said on that subject:

"The depression in textile manufacturing in the last twelve months has left us witout a profit and in many instances our profit and loss account has been on the wrong side of the ledger. While this is true, it has taught us many lessons of economy which will be of lasting benefit. When business was active and profits were great we were extravagant. We, from necessity, have had to cut down our expenses, retrench in all departments, stop all leaks, but in this depression, we have never cut wages. We have carefully guarded the interest and comfort of our employes. In all candor I can make the assertion that in our department there is no conflict between labor and capital. I can congratulate you that harmony and good feeling prevails between the employes and employers. We should leave nothing undone to make them feel an interest in the plant and to labor faithfully for the good of their employer. A liberal spirit and kind treatment is the best investment we can make for the future. We should build good tenement houses, make their homes bright and comfortable. They will be happy and contented and will reward us by their faithful services. Adopt sanitary regulations and have them strictly carried out. It promotes good health, 'cheerful disposition and happy homes. In no department of labor is there so much care and attention given to all these subjects as in cotton manufacturing. We should use our influence in aiding the establishment of textile schools in the Southern States, supported and maintained by a liberal appropriation on the part of the State government so as to command the best talent. We all recognize the value of educated labor and should freely give this measure our fostering care. We should encourage our employes to educate their children. In order to further this, we should build school houses at our different plants, make liberal appropriations to keep competent teachers employed six or nine months during the year; build churches, libraries and reading rooms for our people; do all in our power to erect a high standard of morals and dignify labor.

There are few if any better business men in North Carolina than Dr. McAden and there are few men who are less influenced by emotional sentiment, but here is a case where business and the spirit of well directed benevolence meet. As a business man he realizes that there are reciprocal interests between the employer and the employed and that the more intelligently and cheerfully the employer is served the better he is served, and he realizes, too, that the more the employer identifies himself with the employed, the more interest he takes in them, the more they will interest themselves in his business and the more faithfully they will work, provided they are the right kind of people. They would have to be a hopelessly inferior kind if they would not appreciate and reciprocate such kindly interest by their employers as the Doctor here recommends.

We saw a statement a few days ago that one of our cotton manufacturing companies had adopted the plan of building nice houses for its employes, with lots reasonably large for garden, flowers, fruit trees, &c., and selling them, at cost to employes with families, giving them as long time as they wanted to pay for them, paying by instalments as might be convenient. There was business in that, because the home spot identifies the owner with the company which he works for, and there will be less disposition to be restless or to roam. The employer thus ties the employed to him and the employed feels that he has more to work for and more to bind him to the place, and consequently he is better contented, works more industriously and more cheerfully.

Villages built as Dr. McAden suggests, houses constructed with a view to comfort and sanitation, provided with schools, libraries, churches and places of innocent recreation, might be made model communities because under the supervision and to the necessary extent control of the owners of the mill, who could in a short while weed the community of any disreputable or otherwise objectionable persons. There never would be any strikes in such a community nor any lock outs by employers.

There were two other notable addresses delivered substantially on the same line, one by Hoke Smith, of Atlanta, the other by Richard H. Edmonds, editor of the Baltimore Manufacturers' Record, both splendid pleas for the industrial training of the South's young men. Each pointed out the value and importance of industrial training as a factor in industrial development, and successful achievement, illustrating by examples in our own country and abroad. Mr. Smith said: and said truly, that the success of New England as a manufacturing section was the result of the attention given to industrial training which has given her an abundance of skilled labor, quickened the brain and stimulated inventive genius until these people have become world-famous for their cleverness in doing things, and their adaptation to doing almost anything in the constructive line. Technical training, he said, was the foundation of New England's industrial success and greatness and of her wealth.

Mr. Edmonds, too, dwelled forcibly on the importance of technical training, the utilizing of what he called our "raw material"—our young men—and converting that "raw meterial" into finished workmen, thus making it manifold more serviceable and valuable, as the raw materials in the fibres, woods, and metals is multiplied in value by being skillfully converted into something useful. After speaking off the errors of the past, and what a drawback the want of skilled labor has been to the South in her industrial endeavors, he made a remedial suggestion that is a capital one. He submitted his plan as follows:

"There are in the South 668 cotton mills, a dozen or more great systems of railways and hundreds of industrial undertakings of various kinds, which, without trenching upon their capital or without diminishing aught of the dividends for their stockholders or individual owners, could provide the means for at least 1,000 scholarships, each matching in amount of annual cost and covering the same time as those founded by our Pittsburg philanthropist. I should like to see 1,000 founded at the beginning of the next four years, so that by 1906 we should have 4,000 Southern boys enjoying them.

"Each cotton mill, steel plant, iron mine, oil well, lumber mill or railroad now able should promise to contribute for for four years or less $125 a year for the necessary expenses of at least one poor boy at a Southern technical school who shall show himself by examination to be capable of enjoying such an aid. The recipient of the scholarship shall bind himself—

"1. To repay to the institution in which he shall be a student, by giving promissory notes for small amounts or otherwise, the full amount expended on his scholarship account, the payments to be made out of his first earnings after graduation.

"2. To seek employment on industrial lines within the limits of the South, certainly during the time in which he is meeting the promissory notes.

"Each donor of a scholarship should promise to give, in selecting employes, either as managers of departments, industrial chemists, members of engineering staffs, etc., preference to the holder of that scholarship who may have qualified himself for such a position.

"Some of the donors of the scholarships are naturally likely to prefer that they should be at the disposal of technical schools situated within the State where they themselves have their habitat. This natural desire, however, should not prevent them from insisting that provision be made by the State for the strengthening of the teaching force or the betterment of equipment of the institution entrusted with the scholarship to an annual amount equal to the sum expended on account of the scholarship.

"By this plan the State, the donors of the scholarships, the holders of them and the she schools where they are expended are linked together by ties of a lofty self-interest which cannot fail to have a notable effect for good upon everybody immediately interested and upon the whole South.

"Through a process of natural selection we may expect one of our existing institutions to become the central force of this movement, an inspiration for others, and educating the authorities in the lower grades of our public schools to give the necessary preparatory training, if even at the sacrifice of useless conventionalities.

He asked the question if the poor but bright young men of the South would accept help given in this way, and answered the question by saying that he had written to the presidents of nearly all the schools in the South where any attention is given to industrial training, and that they all replied in the affirmative, citing the fact that they nearly all have some young men who were helping to pay their expenses by manual labor in the institutions, showing the desire to learn and the willingness to work to learn. If this suggestion and plan of Mr. Edmonds be carried out the near future will give us thousands of skilled and competent workers, who would themselves become the teachers of others.

It is a hopeful sign for the South that so much interest is being exhibited in the subject of technical schools and in the industrial training of our young men and young women, for they should not be overlooked.

PLAYING WITH THE TRUSTS.

There is a good deal of speculation as to how the Republican statesmen will tackle the trust question, or whether they will tackle it at all. In his Minneapolis speech President Roosevelt took a somewhat advanced position on that question, but he was not President then and only went so far as to say that it might become necessary to adopt some legislation to restrain trusts of monopolistic tendencies, which took advantage of their opportunity to put the screws on the consumers of their their products. While apparently condemning that kind of combines it was really a non-committal speech and left the remedies for future consideration.

In view of that speech there is more or less surmising as to what the President will say on that subject in his message to Congress and what he will recommend. Fearing that he may possibly follow up on the line of his Minneapolis speech, and possibly go further by recommending remedial legislation, pressure has been brought to bear by friends of the trusts to get him either to pass over that question altogether or to treat it in a non-committal, negative sort of a way, and if any recommendations be made that they be of a mild, unimportant character, which while apparently meaning something would practically amount to nothing. The intimations that come from alleged interviews and utterances by the President seem to point to this.

There is one thing on which the public may be pretty well assured in advance and that is that however much talk there may be about regulating, restricting and controlling trusts there will be very little serious effort made in that direction, and that when this Congress adjourns the trusts will be about as firmly entrenched as ever and as much masters of the field they occupy.

Although there has been a good deal of anti-trust talk for several years the Republicans in Congress could never be induced to tackle that question, and invariably choked off every move made by Democrats to take it up. Taking the past as an index of future action the trusts are not alarmed.

HANDS OFF.

In replying to the address delivered by Governor Aycock at the Colored State Fair, at Raleigh, the speaker, a negro preacher and editor of Durham, referring to the professed interest in the negroes of the South by Republican partisans in the South, closed by asking them to look on but keep "hands off" and let the white people of the South and the negroes of the South settle for themselves the question of the relation of the races. He substantially told these intermeddlers that the negroes of the South do not want their interference and the more interference by them the worse it would be for the South, and for the country and worse still for the negro.

But with all this intermeddling and its consequent unrest and distraction the negroes of the South have been making progress, have been bettering their condition and becoming the owners of property, all from the savings of their labor and not a very highly priced kind of labor, either.

As an illustration and at the same time a potent argument against the agitation that is calculated to widen the chasm between the races, W. E. Burghardt Dubois, a professor in the negro college at Atlanta in an article which appears in the New York Independent tells of the progress made by the negroes of Georgia in the acquisition of property and as a proof of it presents the following tables showing the assessed valuation of property owned by them in 1900 and 1901, and the number of acres of land owned by them in 1900 and 1901 and its valuation:

Assessed value of total negro property 1900	$14,118,720
Assessed value of total negro property, 1901	15,629,811
Acres of land owned by negroes, 1900	1,075,073
Acres of land owned by negroes, 1901	1,141 135
Value of land owned by negroes, 1900	4,274,549
Value of land owned by ne 1901	4,656,042

They have added $1,500,000 to the value of their holdings in one year, have increased their acreage 66,062 acres, and added $381,593 to the value of their farming lands.

In this connection it may be incidentally remarked that Georgia is a rock-bottomed Democratic State, in which there has been comparatively little agitation of the race question and where the negro, although constituting a considerable proportion of the population, figures very little as a political factor. They have been attending to business and letting the white men run the politics, the good results of which are visible in the figures presented by Prof. Dubois.

The latest telepathy story comes from the plains in Nebraska. Two young men, friends, from the East, were employed on ranches seventy miles apart. One of them was thrown from his horse and badly injured. The other had a presentiment that something had happened to his friend, mounted his horse to ride to him, and fortunately took a road that led him by the spot where his friend had been thrown, and where he was found in an almost exhausted condition. He had barely strength enough left to wave his hat to call the attention of his friend and rescuer.

The past fiscal year ending June 30th, 480,000 immigrants arrived in this country, 28 per cent. of whom were from Italy, 23 per cent. from Austria-Hungary and 17 per cent. from Russia.

Ask Your Physician

When a good physician prescribes beer for a patient it is Schlitz beer. A physician knows the value of purity.

Ask him how germs affect beer and he will tell you that few stomachs can digest them. He will say at once that impure beer is unhealthful.

You will know then why we brew under such rigid precautions — why we even filter the air that touches it; why we filter the beer, then sterilize every bottle.

If you knew what we know and what your physician knows about beer, you, too, would insist on Schlitz.

—— The yellow peril appears again in this country, the Chinese exclusion act expiring by limitation next May, and the Treasury Department being accredited with encouragement of an effort to prevent renewal of the law. Two arguments are made by the non-renewers, it is said. One is that the law cannot be enforced, and the other is that it interferes with our Chinese trade. So will soon open our own particular Eastern question in all its large proportions.—Richmond Dispatch, Dem.

—— Manufacturing will be the making of the South. It is not so much economically as it is socially and politically, that the South has suffered from the almost exclusive character of its agriculture. Cotton mills and iron furnaces mean more to the South in other directions than they do as sources of revenue. It is interesting, therefore, to learn from census bulletins just issued that Arkansas has $36,000,000 of capital in manufactures that employ over 26,000 persons, and that Louisiana has $113,000,000 of manufactured capital and 42,000 wage-earners. In this State in ten years the amount of capital invested in manufactures has increased 109 per cent. In Arkansas the value of the products has just doubled in ten years.—New York Journal of Commerce, Ind.

HOUSEWORKERS' HANDS.

How to Keep Them Free From the Marks of Labor.

Housework is rather hard on the hands, but there are some precautions which, if taken, will add greatly to the comfort of the worker and the appearance of the hands, says Maria Parlon in Ladies' Home Journal. Among the things which roughen and blacken the hands the most important are dust, soap, fruit, vegetables and neglect to properly dry the hands. Wash all vegetables before paring. When the hands are stained by fruit or vegetables, be sure to remove the stains before the hands come in contact with soap or soapy water. Remove the stains with an acid, such as lemon, vinegar or sour milk; then wash in clear water. When using soap and water for any purpose, be sure to rinse off all the soap before wiping the hands. Always wipe the hands perfectly dry. Do not change soaps if you can avoid it, and always use a good soap. When sweeping and dusting, wear loose fitting gloves. Have a pair of rubber gloves for use when it is necessary to have the hands in water a great deal. Grease spoils rubber, therefore the gloves must be washed perfectly clean as soon as the work is finished. A little bran and milk or vinegar will make the hands clean and smooth after dishwashing or any other work that roughens them. With a little practice one can wash dishes as well and quickly with a dish mop as with a cloth and the hands. There should be two mops, one for the tableware and one for the cooking dishes. For washing floors have a self wringing mop. To soften the hands use some sort of cream on them at night and put them in loose gloves kept for this purpose.

"I wrote Dr. Pierce regarding my case, and received a prompt reply, free."

"I endured nearly four years of suffering," writes Mrs. J. L. Myers, of Washington, W. Va., "caused principally from improper medical attention after the birth of a child, and female weakness, resulting in a complication of diseases. Had a terrible cough and an incessant pain and soreness in lungs. Was reduced in flesh from 184 pounds to about 100 pounds in eighteen months. I had no appetite, and became so weak and nervous I could scarcely sit up. I doctored with our home physicians for two years with no benefit, I was finally induced to try Dr. Pierce's medicines. I wrote to Doctor Pierce regarding my case, and received a prompt reply, free, advising the proper medicines for my case. After taking four bottles of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription and four of his 'Golden Medical Discovery,' three doses each day, also taking one bottle of Dr. Pierce's Compound Extract of Smart-Weed and some of his 'Pellets,' I ceased coughing, and am now enjoying splendid health and have gained thirty-five pounds in weight. I again feel like my former self, thanks to Dr. Pierce and his great medicines."

Hard to Understand.

Matt G. Robson, proprietor of the Riverside poultry yards, Port Leyden, N. Y., writes to A Few Hens about his experience with eggs for hatching the past season. Mr. Robson states that he had a hen set on a lot of eggs and got none. At the same time another hen hatched four out of a sitting, and still another hatched 13 chicks out of 13 eggs. Two hens afterward set produced nothing. He shipped 100 eggs to a party, and all hatched but five. Same week he shipped three sittings to a party, and only nine hatched, and so on.

Value of Clover For Poultry.

Clover hay contains about 20 times as much lime as corn. This makes it a valuable food for poultry in late fall or early winter. The second crop of clover is considered better than the first, although the first is good.

COTTON MARKETS.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

NEW YORK, November 19.—The cotton market opened firm at an advance of five to seven points on moderate general buying, led by an uneasy short interest. Wall street, the South and Europe picked up a little cotton on the rise and there were evidences of buying for New England spinning account. Behind the better feeling was a bullish set of English cables, a smaller port movement than expected, reports of bad weather in the eastern belt and more reduced crop estimates from the South Atantic States. Soon after the call the market eased off slowly to 7.54 for January under failure of the early buying to hold. Liverpool refused to follow our reaction but worked steadily upward and closed at about top figures for the day. Toward midday the market again stiffened on reports that the Carolinas and Northern Georgia had been visited by a heavy snow storm. Firmer Southern spot markets and a light estimate for to-morrow's Houston receipts helped to support prices which advanced to 7.95 for January. Then came a large estimate for New Orleans arrivals to-morrow, with the result that prices once more eased off to the low figures of the morning. Trading was comparatively light in the late session. The weather South averaged up unfavorably. Trade reports from the continent as well as from domestic centres were very encouraging. There was a sharp decline in the last half hour under liquidation of room holdings, with the market barely steady and net one point lower to two points higher.

How To Get Rich.

The men who are rich to-day, were, in nine cases out of ten, poor in early life. Their earnings at first very small, but their expenses were still less; the difference was carefully saved, deposited in some safe place, made to yield in forest, and thus foundations were slowly laid for large accumulations. When a man begins to spend less than he makes his good fortune begins, and his luck favors him. Therefore begin to day to save and be sure your money is in a safe place. We claim to be such a place and invite investigation. Money deposited now draws 4 per cent. from December 1st.

ONE WOMAN'S EXPERIENCE.

She Has Succeeded With Fowls and Enjoys Being a Poultry Crank.

The family pocketbook on the farm is often a lean one, and however free it may be to all members of the family it is not ample enough to supply the demands, modest though they may be, of the girl on the farm. So I had long thought of poultry keeping as a means of adding income, but the poultry and henhouse on the farm were of the typical kind, or, in other words, no kind. I was absolutely ignorant of breeds—in fact, all the bookiore of poultry farming—and had a private opinion not at all complimentary of "fancy poultry." With all the rest the "head of the family" considered hens an unmitigated nuisance, with very few redeeming qualities and none at all where the balance sheet was concerned. At this time fortune dropped into my lap in the shape of a present from a friend of a setting of pure bred Colored Dorking eggs, and to give further interest in them the mother hen died when they were a day old, and seven dear little fluffy fellows, with their funny upturned fifth toe, looked to me for a mother's care. No incubator full of possible prize winners with imported ancestors have ever given me the pleasure of those funny little fellows. They came to believe themselves members of the family and pretty nearly became so. They proved to be good stock and inoculated me into a most aggravated case of the chicken crank disease.

For several years I kept only the Colored variety, but the assistance of the friend who gave me the eggs and the premiums I won gave me so many calls for stock that I added the White and Silver Gray varieties and have now about 300 fowls. I have five henhouses, three colony houses for chicks, incubators and brooders, bone mill and root cutter. Hens are all yarded except chicks, which have free range. The fowls have paid for the whole plant, and they never net me less than $1 apiece a year. They pay not only for feed, but every expense of houses, repairs, additions, subscriptions to poultry papers, entry fees—everything, in fact, that pertains to the business. With the help of my sister, who became my partner several years ago, I do all the work, and as one of us can drive a nail we do nearly all our building. We have also converted the "head of the family" to the belief that properly managed "hens do pay."

Our line of work is principally raising fancy stock for breeding and for sale to the fall and winter exhibitors, especially to the men with "strings of birds," and eggs for hatching, which we ship to all parts of the United States and Canada. Side issues are broilers of chicks off color, or for cross breeding, for which the Dorking is largely in demand from its value as a table fowl. We exhibit at a few of the larger shows. I have been 12 years in the business, and while every year I realize more fully how much there is to learn in the care of poultry—and that it is no easy road to wealth—I do enjoy the business, with its modest income, that is my "very own."

Among the many mistakes was the lack of courage to branch out, advertise and spend money. I have been penny wise and pound foolish too many times. With what fear and trembling did I make my first importation of eggs, yet nothing ever paid me better than the two lone chicks I raised from them. And I did not actually dare to tell my friends the first time I paid up into two figures for a bird. I have no fabulous returns to give, as I go over my books, but I believe that one who will "stick to it" through all the myriad trials and discouragements of a breeder, who is no more ready to give up in times of failure than of success, will enjoy, as I do, being a poultry crank.—L. Goodell in Poultry Monthly.

Breeding Birds.

In any flock, whether pure breed or not, it is very desirable to select a number of the best laying hens and put them with the best male bird that can be secured. In this manner any flock can be improved, since the effect of selection will certainly be felt on the progeny. It is desirable to have the male bird with the hens only during the breeding season, as it has been found by experiment that hens lay more eggs without than with the male, and is also a considerable advantage to the eggs, since the chief cause of bad eggs is the fact that the germ has started and then decay sets in. Breeding birds should receive all the freedom and exercise possible, and meat and vegetable should form a large portion of their diet. The vigor of the chick depends largely upon the past history of the parent bird, and in order to secure the required vigor of the germ the breeding stock should receive the best treatment possible. The number of hens to the cock is a point in which there may be considerable variation. Where birds are enjoying their freedom one male to from 18 to 22 hens is sufficient in the Mediterranean varieties, while in the Asiatics and Americans one to 12 or 16 should be the rule. It must be kept in mind, however, that the vigor of the male bird and the conditions under which fowls are kept should be carefully considered, and where birds are closely confined the number of hens to the cock should be considerably diminished, say a dozen to 18 in the lighter breeds and 10 to 12 in the heavier breeds.

Make Them Dig.

Every poultry journal in the land keeps telling their readers day after day and year after year to make the fowls hunt and dig in straw for all their grain food. Now, there is a splendid excuse for this rule. While all work and no play makes Jack a dull boy, no work and idleness makes a good hen a nonproducing loafer. What fowls need is plenty of exercise. When given their liberty, they will wander miles over the fields and hunt and dig for bugs and seeds, and then they lay the most eggs.

Now, if you will make them dig in a foot of straw for all their grain all through the winter, also throw some large sized beef scraps among the straw, they will dig and hunt all day long and get the much needed exercise which imparts the vigor and health that promote the egg production and vitality that gives us the greater amount of fertile eggs. Make them work for all they get; only feed mash food, table scraps and green food in the troughs. If you can have clover hay, cut it fine and throw among the straw for them to dig after.

Treatment of Apple Canker.

In addition to protection from sunscald, thorough spraying with bordeaux mixture and care to prevent accidental injuries make up the preventive treatment. The larger diseased limbs may be saved from complete loss by cutting them off back of the cankered area and inserting scions of the same variety.

For Asthma use CHENEY'S EXPECTORANT.

A HOME CURE.

Thousands of women who are living quietly, amid the luxuries of home have hidden suffering. They start at every little jar or noise. They become irritated at the slightest cause. They suffer periodical pains but have little understanding of what causes them. If they went to a doctor for an examination they would be shocked to hear they had "female troubles"—a prospect which strikes terror to a woman's heart. Female troubles come on gradually, but plain warnings tell of their approach.

Are you nervous?
Do little things annoy you?
Do you start at every sound?
Are you discouraged and miserable on certain days, then elated again the next?
Are your menses painful or irregular?

WINE OF CARDUI

If your answer is "yes" to any of these questions you should not be deceived. You are suffering with female troubles and should begin the Wine of Cardui treatment at once. It will cure you as it has cured 1,000,000 other women. It cures in the privacy of the home. No private examinations. No operations. Could relief be easier? Try Wine of Cardui.

Bexelder, Texas, December 3, 1900.

I received a copy of the Home Treatment of Female Diseases and my wife and I read it all through. My wife was very unhealthy. She has been using Wine of Cardui thirteen months. It gave her good health and we are all more than thankful for your book and advice. It did her more good than any other medicine in the world. May you prosper! I shall ever use your medicine in my family. F. P. REID.

THE LATEST AS TO NERVES AND STRENGTH

It is not muscle so much as the nerves back of muscle which show one's strength and power of endurance. And the study with able physicians of to-day is how to keep the nerves in perfect health and fitted for the strain of everyday living. Headache of every type, nerve weakness, dyspepsia, sleeplessness, languor, restlessness, nervous dyspepsia, muscular weakness, brain weariness, poor circulation.—a thousand different unpleasant feelings and symptoms are due to nerve waste and nerve weakness,—especially in women and children. But how can all this be prevented, one will ask? How can my broken-down constitution be replaced, and nerve strength and full, robust health be secured. Just two points to remember: Determine that you will grow strong in nerves and health, and decide to use at once that most famous nerve cure, PAINE'S CELERY COMPOUND. It is delicious in taste, quick in action and makes the wearied nerves tingle with renewed strength and every function the stronger and faculty the brighter by its use. Druggists sell it.

WEDNESDAY MORNING, NOV. 20.

GOLD SHIPMENTS.

Kaiser Wilhelm Der Grosse Carried More Than Seven Million Dollars—Other Engagements Made

By Telegraph to the Morning Star

NEW YORK, November 19.—Gold engagements for shipment on Thursday were made at the assay office to day. The first sum announced was $1,000,000, half of which was for Ladenburg, Thalmann & Company. Of the next $1,000,000 gold ordered early today at the assay office for shipment on Thursday, $500,000 has been cancelled, leaving Ladenburg, Thalmann & Company the only shippers so far announced.

The big North Germann Lloyd liner Kaiser Wilhelm der Grosse, which sailed for Europe to-day, carried in her treasure room coin and bar gold valued at more than $7,000,000. It was carefully stowed away in oak casks and iron-bound boxes, and was under seal in the specie room. It was the largest sent across the Atlantic in a single steamship, and represented the engagements made by the larger financial houses of New York since the final shipment of last week. Most of the gold goes to meet foreign obligations not paid by balances.

THE WAR IN COLOMBIA.

Government Forces Start to Attack Insurgents Who Are Strongly Entrenched at Chorres, Near Panama.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star

COLON, via Galveston, Tex., Nov. 19.—General Alban, with a force of 1,100 men, well armed and supplied with ammunition and having cannon and modern quick-firing guns with them, has started to attack the insurgent forces which are strongly entrenched at Chorerra. Half of Gen. Alban's force left Panama in large launches, towed by the Colomb a gunboat Boyaca. The remainder marched overland. These forces are to combine and make a front and rear attack on the insurgents. Chorerra is only one good day's march from Panama. Gen. Casiro accompanies Gen. Alban.

Gen. Lugo is in command of the insurgent forces, though Domingo Diaz is the nominal head. The Liberals claim that they possess a stronger force than the government, but it is generally admitted that they are indifferently armed and poorly supplied with ammunition. News of a decisive government victory is confidently expected this week.

Gen. Alban's marching orders were kept secret until the moment the troops were ordered to move.

A majority of the troops which arrived here Sunday last on board the gunboat Gen. Pinzon, will remain at Panama, in order to garrison that city.

DENSE FOG IN CHICAGO.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star

CHICAGO, Nov. 19.—The densest fog ever experienced in Chicago caused numerous collisions between trains early to-day. In these collisions two men were killed, two were so badly injured that they probably will die, and fifteen others were seriously hurt. Many others, the police say, were hurt in minor accidents due to the fog but as they were able to assist themselves no official reports were made. The more serious accidents occurred on the Metropolitan and the Lake street elevated roads. Collisions between surface cars and vehicles were frequent, but while a great number of people were injured by them, none of the injuries incapacitated them and the damage was chiefly to the colliding objects themselves.

The fog at an early hour was so thick that persons standing on the sidewalks could scarcely distinguish street cars passing within a few feet of them and motormen kept their gongs clanging a constant warning.

BANK CLOSED ITS DOORS.

Failure Said to be Due to a Run Caused by a Misunderstanding.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

TACOMA, WASH., November 19.—The Metropolitan Bank, P. V. Cæsar president, closed its doors to day after experiencing a run all day yesterday. The run began as the result of a misunderstanding, the small depositors believing that a suit filed Friday against the receiver of the Metropolitan Savings Bank, which failed five days ago, had something to do with the present Metropolitan Bank. About $40,000 was withdrawn yesterday and to-day the bank applied for a receiver. Dwight Phelps was appointed with a bond of $10,000. The Metropolitan's total deposits are about $500,000. The failure is due entirely to the misunderstanding.

FIRE AT CHARLOTTE.

The Holton Block Burned—Loss Estimated at $100,000—Insured.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

CHARLOTTE, N. C., November 19.—Fire early to-day destroyed the Holton block and caused a loss of $100,000 The principal losers are: H. G Link, groceries, $30,000; R. H. Field, groceries, $18,000; B. K. Bryan, groceries, $48,000; Oglesby Brothers, dry goods. All were insured.

The fire broke out in Oglesby's store, at the corner of Trade and College streets, and gained headway through an accident at the pumping station which temporarily cut off the water supply. By the time the block was well in flames the water supply was restored and the flames were confined to the building.

STRIKERS RAID INDIANA MINES.

Three Hundred Union Men Attack a Plant Near the City of Vincennes.

GRAVE TROUBLE IS FEARED.

Property Destroyed, Tools Burned, the Mine Shaft Closed and Union Miners Badly Beaten—The Situation at Madisonville, Ky.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

VINCENNES, IND., Nov. 19.—Three hundred union miners from Washington, Princeton, Petersburg, Linton, Sullivan and Bicknell, came here during the night and early to-day marched to the shaft of the Protest Hill Coal Mine Company, where non-union miners were employed, and closed the shaft. They destroyed property, assaulted a number of miners and are still in the vicinity of the mine. The entire city is excited and grave trouble is feared.

Owing to a recent strike the mine was not being operated at night and but one man, the watchman, Duck Asbell, was on duty. Asbell says he was seized by the leaders of the miners who took him to the furnace, threatening to burn him alive, but that others interfered. He was then beaten almost senseless and placed under guard while fifty of the crowd went to a shack occupied by half a dozen miners, where a general fight resulted, in which Perry Collins, an attorney of Washington, who was visiting the owner of the shack, and William Scott and Joe Devine, non-union miners, were badly beaten and left in a serious condition. The union men then returned to the mine, stopped the pumps, burned all the tools they could find, and after leaving instructions that they would return in case the mine was started and the scale not paid, marched back to town and disbanded.

Situation at Madisonville.

MADISONVILLE, KY., Nov. 19.—As one of the results of the recent miners' troubles here the St. Bernard Coal Company has given up its Kentucky charter and will incorporate under the laws of Delaware. The company gives as the reason that it may receive Federal assistance.

The camp of the union miners here has been moved to Nortonville where about 200 men are in camp.

President Wood, after a conference with his attorneys, has decided to fight the motion to make perpetual the injunction granted the Reinecke Company by Federal Judge Evans.

An effort was made to work at the Shaft mine in Providence to-day but when the whistle blew for work few men responded. The imported negroes are still badly frightened at Sunday's proceedings and will not go near the mines. Many say they will leave.

Horton Bush, a negro miner, who was shot during the battle Sunday, died to day. Bud Couch, a union man, shot through the left lung, cannot recover.

THE W. C. T. U. CONVENTION.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

FORT WORTH, TEXAS, Nov. 19.—The salient feature of to-day's session of the W. C. T. U. National Convention was the debate over the adoption of resolutions concerning the Statehood for Oklahoma and Indian Territory and the endorsement of the Prohibition party. The debate was long and spirited. The resolution favoring the Prohibition party was defeated.

Mrs. Lillian M. N. Stevens was unanimously elected president of the W. C. T. U for the coming year; Mrs. Susannah Fry, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Clara Hoffman, recording secretary, and Mrs. Helen Morton Barker, treasurer.

The resolutions agreed upon last night were adopted to day with slight changes, viz:

1: Advocating total abstinence as the only safe rule for each man and woman's habit of life.

2 Upholding the great principle of prohibition as the only righteous protection against the most unscrupulous and demoralizing traffic on earth.

3. Reaffirming the statement that the "American army is far better off without intoxicants of any kind," and endorsing the anti-canteen law.

4 Believing in a revival of Christian citizenship founded on divine ideals of righteousness.

5. Deploring the death of the late President McKinley at the hands of a cruel assassin and especially that he should have fallen a victim to that insensate hatred of law or government which is represented in anarchy.

6. Favoring the peaceful solution of labor troubles by arbitration and calling upon workmen to join in the battle against the saloon.

7. Calling for perfect equality of men and women before the law.

MISS STONE AND MME. TSILKA.

The U. S. Agent Asks That Troops be Sent Against the Brigands.

By Cable to the Morning Star.

SOFIA Nov. 19.—It is reported that Mr. Dickinson, the United States diplomatic agent here, has informed the government of Bulgaria that the abductors of Miss Ellen M. Stone and Mme. Tsilka, with their captives, are concealed in a defile of the Belleritza mountains, near Smotch, district of Dubnitza, and has requested that troops be sent to surround the place and liberate the captives. Both Mr. Dickinson and the Bulgarian foreign office declined to confirm or deny this report. Nevertheless, it is believed that Mr. Dickinson, persuaded of the impossibility of coming to terms with the brigands and relying upon his belief that they will not harm their captives if troops are employed against them, has, after consulting with Washington, decided upon this course. Only eight bandits now guard Miss Stone and some of these are known to sympathize with her.

NATIONAL RECIPROCITY CONVENTION IN SESSION.

Many Manufacturing Industries Represented — Organization Completed Work Outlined—Committees.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star

WASHINGTON, Nov. 19.—Many of the manufacturing industries of the United States are represented at the national reciprocity convention which began its session here to-day. There were 200 delegates present in response to a call issued by the national association of manufacturers at a meeting in Detroit last June. The convention in representative of all sections and its object is to give expression to the views of manufacturers generally on the subject of reciprocity.

D. A. Tompkins, of Charlotte, N. C., was chosen temporary chairman and Theodore C. Search, of Philadelphia, was made permanent chairman. The organization was completed by the election of the following:

The convention adopted resolutions of greeting to President Roosevelt, pledging its support and expressing its confidence in his administration. Mr. Search, in taking the chair, outlined the work before the convention. He said in part:

"Our aim has been to forestall tariff agitation, not to encourage it. It is the duty of this convention to harmonize as far as possible the widely differing opinions represented in this body and to reduce to clear and forceful expression such principles as we had in common. We are here to harmonize our views, not to emphasize our differences."

Committee announcements and the reading of papers occupied the afternoon session. Ellyson A. Smith, of Pelzer, S. C., was named as a member of the committee to call on the President and D. A. Tompkins, of Charlotte, was made a member of the committee on resolutions.

MURDER TRIAL IN WASHINGTON.

Mrs Lola Ida Bonine Arraigned for Killing James Seymour Ayres, Jr.

SHE PLEADED NOT GUILTY.

Accompanied by Her Husband and Sister. Her Two Boys Were in the Court Room — The Examination of Jurors Begun.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 19.—The trial of Mrs. Lola Ida Bonine, on indictment for the murder of the young census clerk, James Seymour Ayres, Jr., in the latter's room at the Kenmore hotel in this city last May, began to-day before Justice Anderson in Criminal Court No. 1. The case was set for 10 o'clock but it was several minutes afterwards before either the judge or prisoner appeared in the court room. At the first session the court room, even though limited in capacity, was by no means crowded. Mr. Bonine and Mrs. Meacham, husband and sister of the accused, were early occupants of the seats reserved for Mrs. Bonine's especial friends, as were the five attorneys engaged for the defence.

At ten minutes past 10 o'clock Mrs. Bonine appeared in the court room, accompanied by the veteran guard, Jas. W. Springman. She walked in so quietly that her entrance was scarcely noted, and took a seat beside her husband just back of her counsel and in front of her sister. She smiled as she greeted her sister, and the latter placed her arms gently about her as she sank into her seat.

After the preliminaries of calling the names of witnesses and of jurors were disposed of, Mrs Bonine was asked to stand and plead to the indictment. She listened calmly to the reading of the document, and when it was concluded pleaded "not guilty" in low but distinct tones.

After a brief statement of the case, by Judge Anderson, the examination of jurors was begun and when the court at 12:30 adjourned for the day the panel was exhausted. There were twenty six members of the panel and of these fourteen were excused, leaving twelve in the box. Of the fourteen jurors who were excused, three were relieved by the court on account of ill health; seven upon challenges by the direct attorney. All of the government challenges were made because of statements on the part of the witnesses that they had conscientious scruples against capital punishment. Most of the challenges on behalf of the prisoner were on account of statements by the jurors that they had formed opinions in the case. In four or five instances they stated that their views could not be changed by new testimony.

Mrs. Bonine was apparently as calm as any of the spectators during the proceedings. She spoke frequently with her husband and sister and only once or twice with her attorneys. During a part of the day her two boys, respectively fifteen and thirteen years of age, were in the court room. After adjournment she took dinner with her friends in the prisoner's room in the court house, being closely attended all the time by her guard. She was then returned to jail. The trial will be resumed to-morrow.
